Announcing Version 1.2 of this comprehensive training and desktop reference tool!
The Cost Estimating Body of Knowledge (CEBoK®) CD-ROM is ICEAA’s official training and reference material. It covers a wide range of diverse topics, including an overview of cost estimating and analysis techniques, data collection and normalization, cost and schedule risk analysis, inflation, probability and statistics, and software cost estimating. Version 1.2 builds off of the expansive content of Version 1.1, with hundreds of changes across all 16 modules, incorporating the newest research and developments in the field.

New for Version 1.2:
- New and enhanced content:
  - Software: Function Point Analysis & Agile Software Development
  - EVM: Contract Requirements
  - Parametrics: CER Calibration & Pairwise Scatterplots
- Updated guidance on:
  - MIL-STD-881C Work Breakdown Structure (WBS)
  - 2009 Weapon Systems Acquisition Reform Act
  - Better Buying Power 2.0
- The latest research from DoDCAS, SCEA, and ISPA conference papers in 2011 and 2012

Interactive, computer-based modules. . .
Content is organized into 16 modules divided into 5 units: Cost Estimating; Cost Analysis Techniques; Analytical Methods; Specialized Costing; and Management Applications. Each module includes a presentation with notes, sample questions, and links to other modules; student exercises to test your knowledge; a glossary of terms; and a bibliography of resources for further study. This program teaches and quizzes you on the most pertinent cost topics that support thorough cost analysis. CEBoK® is designed for self-guided study by an individual or in a formal classroom training environment. It can be studied from start to finish, or in stand-alone lessons, offering flexibility for both the student and instructor. Whether you’re preparing for the CCEA® exam, looking to brush up on old skills, or to learn new skills and information, CEBoK® is the right product for you! All license holders get complimentary copies of content-enhancement updates, so why not buy your copy today, and ensure that you get access to the most up-to-date information over the course of your license agreement? Or considering purchasing a site license for all the cost practitioners at your office!
