

ICEAA Members Code of Ethics

AS A MEMBER I WILL:

- Assure my professional reputation for competence and integrity
- Avoid any conduct that would reflect unfavorably on the dignity or honor of the profession
- Submit accurate and objective analyses and accept responsibility for my efforts
- Promote cooperation among members of the profession, extending consideration and courtesies to all
- Assist fellow analysts in their professional development, advance the art of cost estimating and analysis, and actively participate in the educational process
- Improve the effectiveness and stature of the profession by exchanging information and experience with others
- Encourage participation in career-oriented activities and work to expand public knowledge of and appreciation for the profession